ABOUT

Product designer with a strong focus on simplifying complex systems into intuitive, actionable experiences. I work research-driven and iteratively, translating insights into clear design decisions. I’m particularly interested in how AI can accelerate the design process, from research synthesis to rapid prototyping and implementation.

WORK

ERNST & YOUNG (EY) • JANUARY-JUNE 2026

Digital Consultant

Contributing to an internal organizational case at EY as part of my master thesis at ITU, exploring system design in a real-world professional context, while applying competencies such as UX, UI, research and design thinking.

EMBACO • 2024-2026
